Tressurer Leavens Announces That $75

Has Been Collected in Norwich to Date.

Francis J. Leavens, local treasurer of the blind soldiers' fund, stated Wednesday night that to date about $75

Las been collected in this city, which sum will be added to the national fund A number of the small banks have been turned in yet.

It has already been proven that certain arts and trades are of especial adaptability yto the bilind. They learn such work as carpentry, boot repairing, mat making, chair caning, type are soliciting contributions, but not all of them have been turned in yet.

The sim of this fund can be stated in a very few words. It is proposed to create through the generosity, sympathy and benevolence of the American people a lasting and practical memorial to the brave young soldiers and sallors who have become bilinded in the ser-

PLANS COMPLETED FOR

PUBLIC SPEAKING CONTEST Secretary Charles D. Hine of State Board of Education Donates First

Plans have been completed for the public speaking prize contest of the towns of State Supervisors Wheeler, Swift and Young will be held in the Broadway school building in Norwich, Saturday afternoon, May 27th, at 3 yard, and Sprague, Sterling, Volun-town and Lisbon. Each town is repre-sented by three speakers—the first and year, such person shall be deemed and second winners of the senior or older taken to be an incorrigible, and, after group and the first prize winner of the expiration of such third sentence, the younger or junior group, as de-shall be detained in the state prison termined in the recent respective town for the further term of twenty-five

ANNUAL JUDGING CONTEST AT STORRS COLLEGE.

Four Different Breeds Will Be Judged

this contest save those who have won knowing the cows beforehand.

The prizes will consist of five calves.
One calf from each breed is awarded the winner of that breed, and the student that has the highest total will be given the choice of a calf of one of the four breeds. The latter will be a sweepstake prize. No student can win two prizes; that is, if he wins one of the individuals and the sweepstake also, be will have a choice of a prize also, be will have a choice of a prize for the breed or for the highest total prizes. These prizes have been secured by the Agricultural club.

The trip will be made in autos and will cost each student $2. Details in regard to it will be arranged later.

The object of this contest is to bring an interesting eliment to the receipt. an interesting climax to the regular second semester judging work, as well as to give students some real experience in judging strange cattle. It also gives good training for the state contest and the intercollegiate contest. Next September there will be con-tests at the Hartford fair in which money prizes will be offered. Also the New England contest will be held at Brockton, in which a silver loving cup is given to the team winning highest honors. Undoubtedly the most important of the year will be the national contest held at Springfield, where teams will be entered from 15 or more agricultural colleges. There is offered as prizes half a dozen silver loving John I. Bromley, 1812 Segt. H. H. Gore, Ebenezer Avery, Clifford Caswell, cups and as many or more scholarships worth $450 each, if used for graduate work in some agricultural college.

ABOUT INCORRIGIBLES Opinion From Attorney-General

Warden Garner. Warden Garner of the Connecticut state prison has received from Attorney General George E. Hinman an interpretation of section 1,530 of the general statutes which reads as fol-

Saturday afternoon, May 27th, at 3 "Whenever any person shall have o'clock.
The towns concerned are East Lyme, Waterford and Montville, Preston, North Stonington and Led-and shall thereafter be convicted and years.

There will be awarded five prizes, three to the older pupils and two to the younger ones. The first prize for the senior group has already been presented by Secretary Charles D.
Hine of the State Board of Education must appear from the warrant of commitment, from which the authority of Hine of the State Board of Education and is a large Webster's unabridged dictionary.

L, M. Crandall of the Norwich Commercial school, one of the judges of the speaking contest has presented the second prize and the Norwich Chamber of Commerce the third.

ANNUAL JUDGING CONTEST

VERDICT FOR $475

Jury Finds for Mrs. Lobmeyer Against Peter Hammacher of Mystio

This Year.

The annual judging contest at the Connecticut Agricultural college will take place on Saturday, May 27. All students who have had a course in cattle judging are eligible to enter cattle judging are eligible to enter was based on a collision between an automobile in which Mrs. Lobmeyer was riding and one driven by Mr. was riding and one driven by Mr. Hammacher, in Haddam last November. Mrs. Lobmeyer alleged she was injured and that the collision which resulted in the injuries was due to first prize in former contests.

The four different breeds, Holstein, Jersey, Ayrshire and Guernsey, and a class of bulls of one or more breeds will be judged. Where the contest is to be held will be kept a secret for the present. This is done so that no contestant will have the advantage in knowing the cows beforehand.

In the company of the calves, the secret for the present. This is done so that no contestant will have the advantage in knowing the cows beforehand.

The four different breeds, Holstein, injured and that the collision which resulted in the injuries was due to mobile by Mr. Hammacher, Mr. Hammacher denied there was any negligence on his part. The case was taken up for trial before Judge Lucien F Burpee and the jury last Friday.
